

Mr. Green, their other neighbor said: "I go out in my garden. In the day time I have my plants and at night I can look at the stars."

Planting a few cucumber seeds in an old tire can teach a child patience. Looking up at night can teach perspective. In many ways patience and perspective are the opposite of anger.