

Then grandfather Diggs said: I do get angry but I do two things, First I try to figure out how the other person is feeling,

One great idea is to ask an angry child if he has tried walking a mile in the other persons moccasins...tried to see things through the other guys eyes.