

When Mom picks me up after her job we have a talk-walk to the corner. On the way to the corner we talk about what we have been doing. On the way back to the car we talk about what we will do next.

