A very good starter definition for forgiveness is “Giving up the right to get even”. Linked to the idea of forgiveness is the idea of Mercy: “Looking beyond someone’s behavior to see their need”. A good family focus’s on each other’s needs not their misdeeds.

Music

is not important to all families. Harmony is. Make sure everyone in the family FEELS like they are listened to and their feelings and thoughts are important. Harmony means that everyone's voice is heard and considered.

All people

includes your parents. It also includes brothers and sisters.

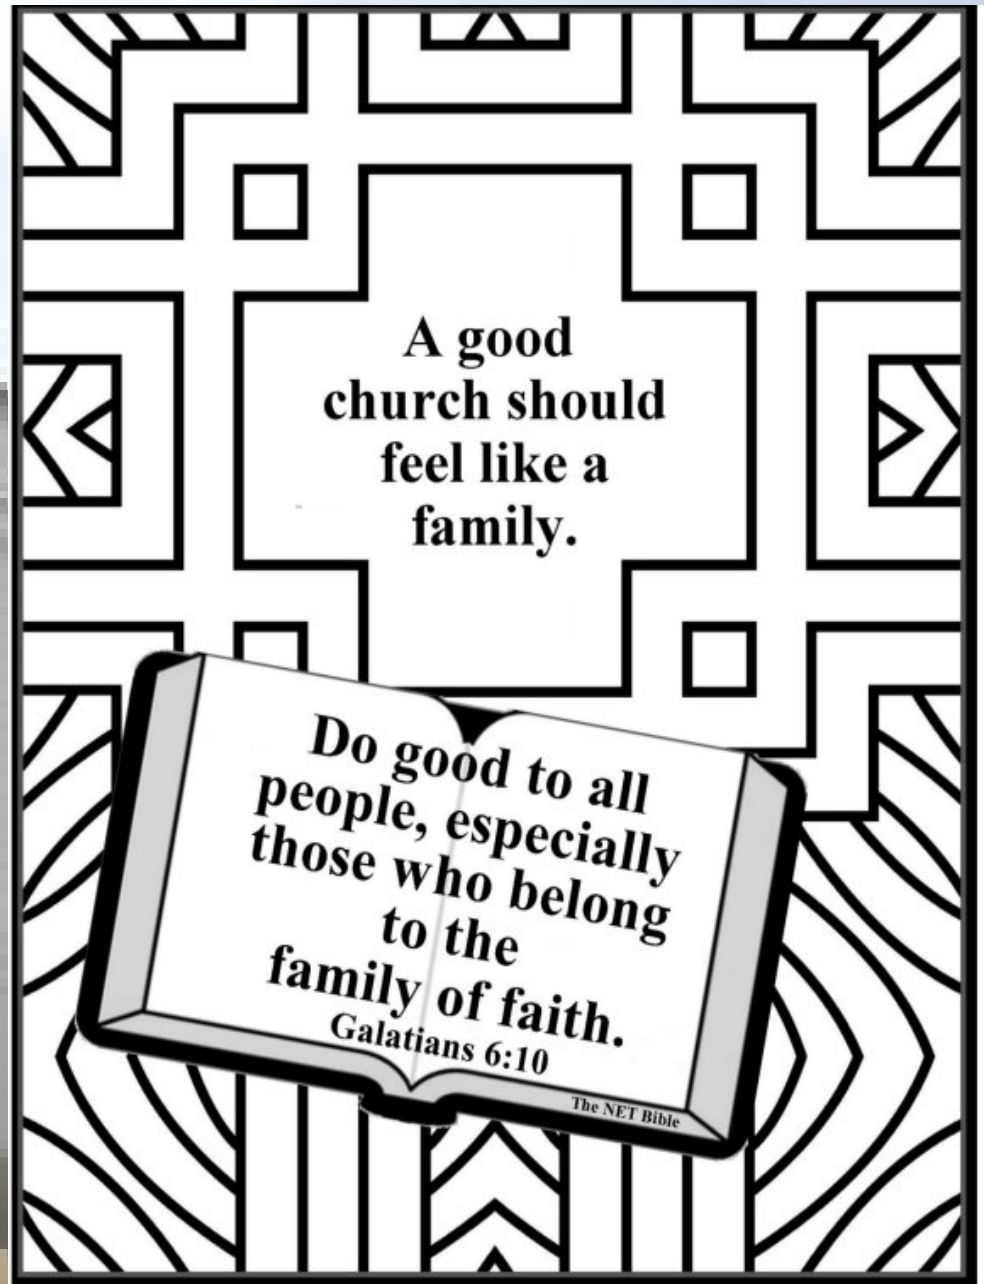

It especially includes the people at church...the ones who pray for you and the ones you pray for.

If anyone in your family is going away to college the first thing to consider is helping him or her find “a family of faith”...a church.

There are many ways of saying “be strong”. One way is a gentle touch on the forearm or shoulder. Another is to offer to help someone with a chore. If someone in your family is feeling tired or lonely or unloved...figure out a way to make them feel stronger. Being loved always makes a person feel strong.

There may be many reasons not to honor your mother and father, especially if there has been a divorce. If you have trouble honoring a father or mother try making a list of the good things they do...of the times they loved you...of the times they did not hurt your feelings. God says honor them no matter how many reasons you have not to. The promise at the end of the verse is a good one.

Without SHARING there is no fellowship. Sharing FAITH in Scripture and Christ is the surest form of sharing for any family. Other things important to sharing families are Goals, Friends, Interests/hobbies, and feelings.

Sounds like God is asking children to be good to their parents just as much as asking parents to be good to their children. Sounds like this is very important to God. One way of reading it is that it is not our enemies or our politicians who will destroy the country...It is the parents and children who choose to PUT OTHER THINGS FIRST.

This kind of spurring (provoking) is not done
done with real
spurs...the kind cowboys
wear.

That would be painful and rude. This kind of spurring means encouraging others to be their best. When people in your family “suggest” you join them in doing something nice
it is because God tells them that is their job. It is also your job. If you have not done a good deed this week today
would be a good day.

Once spoken out loud an unkind word can
NEVER be ERASED
It must be REPLACED.

everywhere visit

out loud is the only thing that can ease the hurt, REPLACE the unkind words and heal the family. We LIKE blessings and hope you try them.

Phillipians 2:4

Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

Phillipians 1:1

James 5:16

If we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship...
